

BRING DIGITAL LITERACY PROGRAMS TO YOUR COMMUNITY

Are you interested in bringing digital literacy programs for older adults to your community? The Executive Office of Aging & Independence can help you launch a program or expand an existing one. Meet with our digital literacy expert, Isaac Carrasco-Ortiz, during office hours to collaborate on digital literacy initiatives in your city or town. Our goal is to help older adults in your community feel more comfortable using smartphones, laptops, and other forms of technology.

Learn how to launch a program on a budget

Discuss how to expand grant-funded programs

Collaborate on intergenerational resources available

Office hours are held virtually every Monday at 10:00AM.

Meet with Isaac on Mondays by clicking here bit.ly/IsaacOfficeHours or email him at Isaac.Carrasco-Ortiz@mass.gov to schedule a 1-1 session.